Our philosophy:

We do the utmost to find the right venues for Your Special Event – because communication and networking work much better within a professional setting.

'The day's work is completed': 'After' the meeting is always 'before' the leisure program. This is all about participant networking, personal contacts and experiencing together. The social part is of significant importance for the success of your event. We pay great attention to the ideal mix of relaxation and entertainment during or at the end of the working day. This can be in the form of a culinary highlight, a sport outdoor event or a cultural evening at the theatre. Austria's variety is boundless.
